Vulture Tracking Data

The Endangered Wildlife Trust's Wildlife and Energy and Birds of Prey Programmes have tagged and tracked 23 African White-backed and Cape Vultures in South Africa, from 2013 to 2017, with funding provided by ESKOM, with a view to better understanding the threats that these species face. Raw data can be requested at https://www.ewt.org.za/biodiversitydata.html. Please note that absence of data does not mean that there are no vultures in a locality, only that no records are held in our database.
